

Stake President Feted At Party

H. Clay Cummings, president of Wasatch Stake of the L. D. S. Church, was feted last evening with a party and program planned in his honor by the stake Special Interest Group. Purely social was the first part of the gathering, a picnic luncheon on the Tabernacle lawns, attended by friends of President Cummings from in and out of the stake.

Highlight of the evening, however, was an unusual program which depicted his life from early childhood up to the present day in a series of narrations in prose and poetry, dramatic illustrations and slides prepared from family photographs.

Period one of the presentation, under the direction of Mrs. Donna Montgomery, depicted his childhood and school years. Period two was prepared by Mrs. May Smith and showed President Cummings' occupation and family life from the time of his marriage. Earl Smith was responsible for the third part of the program, illustrating President Cummings' military and community achievements. The fourth and final period presented showed scenes from his religious life. This was prepared by Donna Clyde, Mrs. Lethe Tatge, Mrs. Cree Probst and Mrs. Thelma Wootton shared the narration.

A special surprise to President Cummings was the appearance on stage of his children, coming from as far away as Wyoming and California to be with him on the memorable occasion.

Among guests who attended the outing in honor of Wasatch Stake's President were Elder and Mrs. Henry D. Moyle, who enjoyed the dinner and the program which followed.

Perhaps it's a bride with a problem,
A young couple needing your love,
A bishop with news of a heart break,
But you bring them all help from above.

Sister Cummings, so lovely and charming,
Worthy mother and wonderful wife.
"Home Sweet Home" is what a woman can make,
And you've made his the heart of his life.
